PRICE FIVE CENTS

CURBS ARE LIFTED ON MANY MORE PRODUCTS

ST CONTAINS NUMBER OF ITAL ITEMS

Washington (AP) — The government today lifted price controls from milk, butter, cream and other dairy products. Drugs, cosmetics, and most service charges, such as for auto, radio and television repairs, also were freed from controls.

Price Stabilizer Joseph Free said the items decontrolled in new list affect about 10 per cent of the articles used in making the cost of living index. He said the Office of Price Stabilization still retains full control over 13 per cent of the items and total control over about 3.5 per cent.

Missing from the list was cigarettes and other tobacco products which OPS had planned yesterday to lift controls. The agency decided overnight to substitute milk and dairy products and oleo-margarine for the tobacco.

This was the third major action in stripping off price controls since President Eisenhower called ending controls in an orderly manner by April 30.

Previously estimated that more than 25 billion dollars worth of goods and services based on an annual business volume was affected by today's action.

Will Close Clubs On Religious Holidays

Harrisburg (AP) — The sale of liquor and beer by private clubs and public taverns would be prohibited on Thanksgiving Day, Christmas, Master Sunday and Good Friday under a new House bill.

Reps. Raymond E. Witt (R-Allegheny) and James J. Gleason (R-Penn.) introduced the measure yesterday. The only time, other than Sundays, that public taverns are prohibited from serving intoxicating beverages under present law is during polling hours on election day.

Private clubs are permitted to serve beer and liquor at anytime except between the hours of 3 and 5 a. m. on any day.

Another bill, introduced by Rep. Elmer F. Barkdoll (R-Franklin) would require the private clubs to stop serving at midnight Saturday, the same hour that public taverns are required to close.

Rep. Daniel A. Verona (D-Allegheny) introduced a bill requiring public drinking places to have rest rooms within 75 feet from the street.

Violence Flares Up In Clearfield Mine Strike

Clearfield (AP) — Non-union coal miners and pickets fought a pitched battle with bullets, bricks and stones today at a nearby strip surface mine of the Robert Bailey Coal Co. One man was seriously wounded by a bullet shot.

G. Albert Stewart, secretary of the Central Pennsylvania Open Pit Mining Association, said John L. Vinland, age unavailable, from Vinland in Cambria county, was shot in the stomach. He was taken to the Phillipsburg State hospital where aides said his condition "is not good."

Stewart said between 75 and 100 pickets, believed to have come in from Cambria county, blocked a township road leading to the mine which is located at Grassfield, near the Clearfield-Centre county line.

Number of Members Serving Last Year on Borough Council

When Warren Borough Council held its organization meeting for 1954 on next January 4th, there will be at least four new faces around the long table in the Municipal Building because of four vacancies which must be filled, those of: President William E. Rice, 7 Maple Place, who will be a candidate for Burgess instead of councilman from the first ward; S. H. Amussen, 25 Brook street, fifth ward, sixth ward; and Manley R. Verter, 101 Main avenue, seventh ward, all three of whom have announced today that they will not be candidates.

Expressing themselves as "uncommitted" today are Brackett Ayers, Second avenue, second ward;

TICKETS PICKETED — Army veteran T. E. Wells maintains a one-man picket line against the Rosenberg pickets in front of the White House in Washington. A stay of execution has been granted to the convicted atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, pending a review of their case by the United States Supreme Court. They were previously scheduled to die the week of March 9.

U. S. Sabres Smash Red Training Centers

Seoul (AP) — U. S. sabre jets today destroyed seven Red MIGs while screening two smashing air blows by 379 fighter-bombers against a Communist tank and infantry training center near the Red capital, Pyongyang, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

The Pyongyang area was blasted by nearly 400 Air Force and Marine planes that roared over in morning and afternoon strikes.

Today's seven boosted to 35 the number of MIGs reported destroyed or damaged in five days of fierce aerial fights. Of these, 14 were destroyed, 5 probably destroyed and 16 damaged.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Named In McCarren Committee Inquiry

Washington (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) told his Senate Investigations Subcommittee today that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt helped to arrange government circulation of some writings by leftist author Howard Fast.

McCarthy then called Fast to the witness stand, and the writer refused, on grounds of possible self-incrimination, to say whether he had been a Communist. He wouldn't say whether he was a Communist when he wrote the material the government circulated.

McCarthy also told the subcommittee that Secretary of State Dulles has countermanded an order issued by a subordinate last Feb. 3 which the senator said directed that "special credibility" should be placed on writings of "Communist endorsed" authors, including Fast, in overseas anti-Communist propaganda broadcasts by the "Voice of America."

McCarthy is presiding over the subcommittee's investigation of charges of waste and mismanagement in "Voice" affairs.

He told his colleagues that some of Fast's writings had been given distribution by "Army services" and the State Department. The senator added that Mrs. Roosevelt "has helped."

Number of Members Serving Last Year on Borough Council

Jesse G. Smith, 404 West Third avenue, third ward; and Nick Merenic, 323 Park street, ninth ward. Mr. Smith has served on Council for 20 years, completing his fifth term at the end of this year, and he said today that he is unable to make a decision at the present time as he is trying to ascertain whether anyone else in the third ward would be willing to be a candidate. Mr. Ayers, who will complete his initial term, said he is not ready to decide about running again, as did Nick Merenic of the ninth ward, who filled out the unexpired term of Ralph Sires and was then himself elected for a four-year term.

Harrisburg (AP) — Dr. Alfred G. Buehler, chairman of Gov. John S. Fine's tax study committee, said today difficulty in making revenue estimates is forcing a delay in presentation of a report to the 1953 Legislature.

"Revenue estimating is a demon problem and you can appreciate what that means in a study such as this," he told a newsman.

Buehler made the statement as the nine-man group met again in secret session to study possible recommendations for a solution to the commonwealth's financial dilemma.

The committee will conclude a two-day session tomorrow and meet once or twice again before releasing its report to the governor about mid-March.

Meanwhile, the Senate and House adjourned yesterday until next Monday when the governor will submit a message on Chesterman Committee economy reports. The committee, headed by Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, was named by the governor to study possible economies in state government.

It has come up with recommendations to save more than 78 millions a biennium after an eight-year period. The economy measures would have to be effected by gubernatorial order, legislative action or constitutional amendment.

In another development, the Legislature named a 10-man committee to study the safety record of the Pennsylvania Turnpike which saw 83 lives lost in accidents in 1952, an all-time high but a near record low for the number of miles traveled across the super-highway.

Sen. Fred P. Hare (R-Somerset) was designated chairman of the group which will organize next week.

There were new indications that an administration constitutional convention bill, up for a final vote in the House next week, would have tough sailing in the Senate.

The final Chesterman Committee economy report next week and presentation of the tax study committee recommendations later will signal the end of mark-time sessions for the Legislature.

MARGARET CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

New York (AP) — Margaret Truman celebrated her 29th birthday yesterday and looked forward to a concert career described by her agents as brighter than ever before.

A spokesman for Kenneth Allen Associates, who manage the singing career of the daughter of the former President, said it would not be possible to accept all bookings offered Miss Truman for next season.

The spokesman said her radio and television commitments and her non-musical activities would limit her concert appearances to about 24 a season.

House Committee Openly Disagrees With President Eisenhower Over Cut in Taxes

SEN. BRIDGES URGES CUT IN AID PROGRAM

Washington (AP) — Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) called today for reassessment and reduction of foreign aid spending and said he will ask Secretary of State Dulles for a preliminary estimate of how much may be needed to help anti-Communist nations.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, which Bridges heads, called Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen to discuss the overseas aid program at a closed session.

Bridges predicted Dulles and Stassen will be told that many senators want "general equalization" of American aid, with more attention to the Far East.

Bridges said Dulles and Stassen would be asked if the aid program can be operated for another year on about 10 billion dollars already appropriated by Congress. Former President Truman had asked for a little more than 1 1/2 billion dollars in new funds for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.), a member of Bridges' committee, said he is confident the 10 unspent billions are enough. Bridges said he hopes Dulles and Stassen plan some sizable reductions in foreign spending.

Dulles and Stassen recently made a flying trip to Europe. There are indications they will hold up fund requests until after a North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting set for April.

Local Aviator Aids In Search for Plane And Four Occupants

Bud Maier, from the Warren Airport, is today scouting around on a search for the light plane missing since last Friday in this general neighborhood. He is continuing a search started Monday when he combed the areas of Dutchman Run, Six Mile, Four Mile, and along the river in the Scandia section.

Maier said this morning that he holds little hope of seeing anything near here, but is looking just on the chance that the plane, carrying four Niagara University students, went down around Warren county. Flyers from the Jamestown Airport report covering that vicinity without seeing any indications of the ship.

Little hope is held that any of the four students has survived, and indications point to the fact that the plane is down somewhere in Cattaraugus county or that vicinity. Sheriff Morgan Segel, of Cattaraugus county, and Sheriff H. Donald McCall, of Livingston county, have organized foot searches. They have been aided by many volunteers, including students from St. Bonaventure, Canisius, and Niagara University. Today, an 8,000 acre state forest reservation in Nunda township of Livingston county will be combed by deputies, game wardens, and a group of Dansville high school seniors.

A report received yesterday by state police at Batavia placed the ship in that area Friday afternoon, but a check of the section disclosed no trace of it.

Bloch made these statements to newsmen late yesterday after a three-man Federal Appeals Court granted the Rosenbergs a new stay of execution until March 30 or longer for another appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

PRESIDENT MEETS THE PRESS — President Dwight Eisenhower pauses during his first news conference since becoming President. ## Church Bells Toll End of Mardi Gras And Start of Lent

New Orleans, La. (AP) — Church bells tolled the end of Mardi Gras revelry and the beginning of 40 days of fasting and penance of Lent.

Mardi Gras, its merrymaking marred by at least one death, ended last midnight and the devout began preparing spiritually for Easter.

But, while Mardi Gras was at its height, thousands of natives and visitors from all parts of the world laughed, cheered, danced and jostled each other for choice spots along the parade route of Rex, Lord of Misrule.

Ten Looseleaf Copies of New Code of Ordinances Received By Officials of the Borough

Ten convenient looseleaf copies of Warren's new Code of Ordinances were received by Council President William E. Rice, Borough Manager C. W. Barwis and Borough Solicitor S. Knox Harper at the Municipal Building at 1 p. m. today, from Richard W. Yeagley, representing the Pennsylvania Valley Publishers, Inc., State College, the firm which has just completed codifying the ordinances. Eighteen more copies, case-bound, will arrive later, fulfilling the need for a completely modernized method of arranging borough ordinances and resolutions.

Now in a concise 436-page book, including a detailed index, all ordinances are arranged in chapters according to subject division. Any ordinance or separate section of an ordinance can be located for reference in a few seconds.

In preparing the codification, 1,540 enactments of Borough Council, made between April 2, 1832 and October 20, 1952 were carefully analyzed and compared with State law, court decisions, and later ordinances.

Seven new ordinances are included in the Code. Among these are the new milk ordinance and a traffic ordinance.

Following the codification of all the active general ordinances in the appendix, in which are listed the titles of those ordinances which are no longer of general interest, but which have had permanent effect upon the Borough. These include, for example, ordinance on annexation of territory, bond issues, contracts, sewer construction, sidewalk grades, street improvement, street vacation and tree levies.

Miss Elizabeth Smedley, editor of the Pennsylvania Valley Codification Division, has pointed out specific advantages of the new Warren Code. Some of these advantages are: repealed ordinances are eliminated; obsolete ordinances will be come repealed; ordinances unsuitable in 1949 and ordered refunds. The present retail oleo tax is $2.

Auto Accident Gives Lincoln School Tots Unexpected Holiday

Approximately 80 children who attend Lincoln school, Clarendon Heights, are enjoying a day's vacation today as the result of an accident which involved a Ridgway motorist early Tuesday afternoon.

The driver, D. O'Connell, of Ridgway, sustained about $400 damage to his car but was not injured when the vehicle went out of control and hit a fire hydrant, ruining the hydrant and the school's water supply along with it. The accident occurred about 1:15 p. m.

In addition to the school, residents in the area are also without water today, until repairs can be made to the lines which were broken.

State police investigated another accident on Route 6 near Clarendon Heights shortly before noon yesterday when a car operated by William Valentine, Clarendon RD 1, and a truck driven by Gerald W. Leonard of Kane, collided about one mile east of Clarendon.

No one was injured and police said total damage was estimated at $225. The crash occurred with both driving west, and as Valentine attempted a turn into a private driveway, the truck attempted to pass him on the right.

Another car landed in the ditch near the Lily Pond yesterday afternoon, but state police have had no report of the incident.

VETO THREAT IS HEARD IN SOME CIRCLES

Washington (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee disagreed vigorously and openly today with President Eisenhower's avowed policy of putting spending cuts ahead of any reductions in taxes.

A tax cut must "precede, not follow" budget reductions, the committee said in a report to the House only one day after Eisenhower strongly renewed his stand for the reverse order.

Further, the committee asserted, a delay in tax trimming until the level of spending is determined — the approach stressed by Eisenhower — "might well have serious economic consequences."

This language brought squarely into the open a simmering clash among Republicans over tax policy and raised the threat of a possible presidential veto. It was approved by the committee in a closed meeting late yesterday — without a rollcall vote.

The committee planned to make it public today. Some newsmen saw a copy in advance of that action.

The report formally sends to the House, with a recommendation for passage, a bill by Committee Chairman Reed (R-N.Y.) to cut individual income taxes 10 per cent starting July 1 — a bill approved 21-4 by the committee Monday.

At his first White House news conference, Eisenhower said yesterday that the government cannot afford to reduce taxes or federal income until it has in sight a spending program which balances income and outgo. Otherwise, he added, higher taxes may result in the future.

Eisenhower would not say whether he would veto any tax bill which may reach his desk. But he did say at one point he would not consent as things now stand to any reduction in government revenue without a substitute which would bring in as much.

The President indicated if the excess profits tax on business is to expire June 30 — as provided in present law — his administration would seek a substitute for that.

Fumes Drive Patients From Hospital Kitchen

Hurried evacuation of 90 women patients was made from the peeling room near the kitchens of Warren State Hospital this morning about 10 o'clock when ammonia fumes filled the building. No one was overcome, and there were no casualties, hospital authorities said.

The incident occurred when a new compressor was being installed in the refrigerating system and a line leak developed, causing the ammonia fumes to circulate throughout the first floor of the Main building.

The emergency truck from Central Fire Station rushed a fresh air mask to the hospital, and workmen succeeded in making a quick repair of the line, and began the airing out of the structure.

Transposing the old songs which have to do with chasing rainbows and having a bonnie lying over the ocean, Warren Rotarians sang "I'm Always Paying Taxes" and "My Taxes Go Over the Ocean" to Nick Mangus, local collector of internal revenue, when he appeared before the local club at its Monday luncheon meeting to talk on income taxes.

He emphasized that no federal tax can be deducted.

The degree team of Warren Lodge No. 339, IOOF, will go to Falconer Thursday evening to confer the second degree on a class of candidates for the Falconer Lodge. Cars will leave the Odd Fellows' Hall at 7:00 p. m. and all those making the trip are asked to be there promptly.

TRANER AND WEHNER

Chuck Traner, well known magician, and one of the younger generation who is making rapid strides in the profession, William Wehner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wehner, Sr., 200 Quaker road, presented a highly applauded show before an audience of Sylvanians workers in Emporium Monday night.

CANCER ADDRESS

"Latest Developments in Cancer Treatment" is the subject of an address to be given to the Erie Section, American Chemical Society, at Edinboro State Teachers College Thursday evening. The speaker will be Dr. Leon Miller, University of Rochester School of Medicine. The public is invited to hear his talk at 8:00 p. m. in the college auditorium.

BLACKSTONE STRIKE

Jamestown Sun: Early settlement of the four-and-a-half-month strike of 70-odd Blackstone Corporation workers appeared unlikely Tuesday, after company and union negotiators ended their first meeting since workers rejected a Blackstone proposal Monday. A union spokesman said "nothing definite" emerged from the conference, but added, "Negotiations are continuing." Another meeting was scheduled for 2 p. m. today. Members of Lodge 1240, IAM, employed in Blackstone's washing machine division turned down a company proposal Monday by a vote of 53 to 3. The proposal reportedly was in contract form. Neither company nor union spokesmen have ever disclosed the central issue of the strike, which began Oct. 16, after failure to reach agreement on terms of a new contract. A wage clause, however, was one of the clauses rejected by the union membership Monday.

Presbyterian Men To Hear Address By Churchman of Note

DR. PARKINSON

Dr. George E. Parkinson, of Canton, Ohio, is to be the speaker at the Presbyterian Men's dinner-meeting to be held next Tuesday evening, February 24, at 6:15 p. m. in the church in Market street. He comes well qualified for the engagement, and officers of the local chapter of the Presbyterian Men's Association are anxious that most men of the congregation will attend, taking advantage of the unusual opportunity of hearing a man with the background experience and forceful speaking ability which Dr. Parkinson possesses.

Graduating from Otterbein College with A. B. in 1935 with two majors, one in Bible and Religious Education, the other in Sociology; also minors in Philosophy, Psychology and Public Speaking, he went on to Western Theological Seminary, graduating in 1938 with the degree S. T. B. and was awarded the Hugh T. Kerr Moderator's prize for outstanding student in the Seminary Course. Two Honorary D. D. degrees have been conferred on Dr. Parkinson, one by Grove City College in 1950 and Wooster College in 1951.

He served Central College Presbyterian Church as its minister-pastor from 1932 to 1938, Minister of First Presbyterian Church Worthington Ohio from 1938 to 1942 and became Minister of First Presbyterian Church Canton Ohio, his present charge, in 1942 at the early age of 29. When he first became Minister of the Canton church its membership was 1400 and now is over 2300.

As a speaker, Dr Parkinson is constantly in demand by Pastors' Conferences, Service Clubs, Youth Organizations, High School Commencements and as a Chapel Preacher on college campuses.

For many years he has been connected with summer conferences for youth in the Presbyterian Synod of Ohio, serving in the capacity of faculty member, Chapel leader and Dean.

For the past nine years his Sunday morning services have been broadcast over station WHBC as the Cathedral Hour.

Dr. Parkinson is also active in civic affairs of his community and is at present a member of the Board of Directors of Rotary, Chairman of Educational Committee Canton Chamber of Commerce, member of Trinity Lodge F. and A. M., 32nd degree Mason, Knights Templar and Shrine.

The dinner will be prepared and served by the Woman's Association of the church, and tickets are available to all men of the church from Captains and Lieutenants of the men's units, or by reservation at the church office, phone 101.

Firemen's Groups In Kinzua Hold Elections

Kinzua—Feature of the annual business meetings of the Kinzua Volunteer Fire Department and its Ladies' Auxiliary was election of officers to serve the two groups in the new year.

At the department meeting, held in the fire hall, Marshall Stanton was chosen president; Grover Bargerstock, vice president; Edward Place, secretary, and Justin Fuller, treasurer.

The department is starting its fifth year and has a new fire hall under construction as its major project. This new structure will house the fire trucks, have a large recreation room, a modern kitchen, and the second floor will be equipped to take care of the Auxiliary activities.

In the meeting of the women's group, these officers were named: President, Naomi Horton; vice president, Viola Shirley; secretary, Beryl Wienold; treasurer, Enis Shick.

After the business session, cards were enjoyed and lunch was served by the hostesses for the month, Edna Anderson and Naomi Horton. Newly-elected officers will be formally installed at the next regular auxiliary meeting on February 25.

Lions Hear Report On Circus Arrangements

Frank Foster, circus chairman, reported at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the Lions Club yesterday, that initial arrangements for the clubs sponsorship of the Mills Brothers Three Ring Circus here on Saturday, May 16, are nearly completed.

Other reports heard during the meeting, which was in charge of President James Mazzu, were from Andrew Donick on the Heart Association campaign now going on and a Tuberculosis Christmas Seal report from Homer Mohr.

Following the business session, Paul Yagge, program chairman, introduced Mr. Norman, manager of the Social Security Board in Jamestown, as the guest speaker. Mr. Norman gave a very interesting talk on "Federal Old Age Pension and Survival Insurance", explaining the laws and functions.

OLD-FASHIONED FLU

In connection with reports that the common cold and gripe are prevalent in the section, seriously handicapping many shops, stores and offices, it is interesting to note that the U. S. Public Health Service now admits that the country is suffering an epidemic of "true influenza," although it is influenza of a mild type. However mild, the present virus is causing heavy absenteeism from work and school in many parts of the country and has contributed to a 15 per cent rise in deaths from respiratory illnesses.

The 1953 epidemic is as nothing compared to the influenza "pandemic" of 1918-1919. That one was world-wide. India, China, Persia, Australia, even the South Sea Islands, were affected, along with Europe and the United States.

In Russia the disease was called "Chinese influenza." In Western Europe it was "Russian influenza." In Japan it was "American," and in the United States it was known as "Spanish influenza." This notwithstanding the fact that the symptoms were everywhere the same.

The worst period in the United States was the autumn of 1918. In Philadelphia, sufferers died unattended and the local Council of National Defense advertised for "any person with two hands and a willingness to help." In New York, streetcleaners were assigned to gravedigging; in Baltimore, Cardinal Gibbons banned public funerals for Roman Catholic victims. November 6 was observed as a day of prayer for abatement of the disease. More than half a million Americans died, many of them from secondary or concurrent complications such as pneumonia.

It is probable that, in the advanced countries at least, influenza will never again take such a toll. While no vaccine has been developed that gives assured protection, the use of penicillin, streptomycin and other new antibiotics has done much to cut the mortality from influenza and associated diseases.

Double bereavement visited the plant of the Struthers-Wells Co., in deaths of Harry H. Crosby, associated with the firm for thirty-eight years, the past ten of which he held the important position of treasurer, and Michael Mazzuca. Pleasant township, employed by the company for 27 years, and at the time of his death a department foreman. Both were held in high esteem by fellow workers and the passing of the two popular officials is profoundly mourned by all who knew them.

It is quite appropriate that President Eisenhower should choose Brotherhood Week as a time to invite Democrat Adlai Stevenson to the White House for lunch and conference.

Dollar Days --- Friday and Saturday of this week. These are magic words which spell shopping excitement for residents of the borough and the entire area.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

And be ye kind one to another.—Ephesians 4:32.

O brother man, fold to thy heart thy brother,

Where pity dwells, the peace of God is there.

—John Greenleaf Whittier

Today's Message

Justice among men can be attained only by the satisfaction of human hunger that are threefold in their nature, because man is at once a physical creature who must be clothed, fed and sheltered, a thinking being who is forever questioning and must be given the opportunity to find the answers; a spiritual being within whom burn aspirations that cannot be quenched by all the material goods of this world.

Man's spiritual side is the dominant one. No human being whatever his position, merits more respect than any other animal unless we accept without reservation the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God. If men are not creatures of soul, they are not better than the field mule, whipped and goaded to work, cared for in the measure of his monetary value. But too often we incline to describe the ultimate in human welfare as a mule's sort of heaven—a roof overhead, food, a minimum of work and no responsibilities.

Unless we rekindle our own understanding, we cannot hope to make unbelievers see that things of the spirit—justice, freedom, equality—are the elements that make important the satisfaction of man's creature needs.

—DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Today's Prayer

Our Heavenly Father, help us to realize that peace is more the product of our everyday living than of a spectacular program, intermittently executed. May we live our daily lives in honesty, decency and integrity; at home, making our own land a fitting habitation for free men; and, abroad, joining with those of like mind and heart, to make of the world a place where all men can dwell in peace. Amen.

(From "The Spiritual Diary," published by Austin-Pheips, Inc., Copyright 1951, by Bessie Caroline Hall, Editor, Distributed by NEA Service.)

Y'Know, There's Something Funny Going on Here

Here And There

The forty-day Lenten fast was begun today with traditional Ash Wednesday services in all Catholic churches and many Protestant congregations including Trinity Memorial Episcopal. The observance signals the beginning of the pre-Easter period of fasting and deprivation which will end Easter Sunday, April 6th. In Catholic churches today priests touched ashes to the foreheads of worshippers as a reminder that "from dust thou began, and unto dust thou shalt return." Many Protestant churches will have Wednesday evening services throughout Lent. At Trinity Memorial vespers services will be held each afternoon, Monday through Friday, at 5:15 o'clock.

Speaking of the Lenten season your attention is directed today to the first of the series of "Spiritual Diary for Lent," a feature that will appear daily at the bottom of the editorial column. This will present a distinctive series of forty spiritual messages, designed to give readers a day-by-day inspirational guide during the Lenten season. Here will be found a cross-section of modern religious thought and practice which will both stimulate the spirit of love and bring courage to troubled hearts. "Spiritual Diary for Lent" opens today with a message by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and includes expressions of faith by 39 other religious and lay leaders. Each chapter is selected from the "Spiritual Diary," edited by Bessie Caroline Hall, prominent religious writer, and published by Austin-Pheips, Inc.

Members of the Warren Aerie of Eagles in this city should be interested in the following news item that appeared in The Evening Mirror of February 18, 1953, fifty years ago today:

For the past few weeks, D. A. Wilson, of Harrisburg, deputy state organizer of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, has been here for the purpose of organizing an Aerie, which is known by other fraternal organizations as a lodge. He has met with encouragement and the local Aerie starts off with a membership of about sixty. A meeting was held in Harugari Hall Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing. Delegations of Eagle were present from Kane and Erie to assist in the initiatory degree. The following officers were elected: Past president, P. S. Horton; president, M. L. Amann; vice president, W. O. Huey; secretary, George Spinner; treasurer, Jacob Stricker; inner guard, Jerry Rigley; outer guard, Albert Cook; physician, F. G. Haines, M. D.; trustees, Alex Erickson, James K. Bell and M. K. Gleason. It is the purpose to rent a suite of rooms as soon as possible when a home for the order will be fitted up.

Terse, Tart and Timely: The best coasting of the season is being enjoyed by youngsters on streets set aside for the sport by the burgess and police department. . . . Oscar Lauger, potato king of the district, says he has between 20,000 and 25,000 bushels of spuds on hand, a portion of which will be saved for seed for the large acreage he has been building up by rotation the past several years. . . . Incidentally, Oscar had an opportunity to meet Ted Malone, famed radio personality, on his visit to the Jamestown Auto Show, who said he is making plans to visit the Lauger farm this summer. . . . A resolution stating the city of Corry protests the proposed schedule of rates filed by the Pennsylvania Gas Company was approved unanimously by members of the city council there at the regular February meeting. . . . Police of the area are watching for a female "quick-switch" artist who substituted a ten-cent ring for a diamond valued at nearly $800 and then calmly walked out of a Franklin jewelry store recently.

New Congress Has No Liking For Immigration Law Review

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There isn't much enthusiasm in Congress over President Eisenhower's request for a review of the McCarran-Walter immigration law of 1953. There are two principal reasons. The first is that Congress passed this law by overriding President Truman's veto. More than two thirds of both the Senate and House therefore put their stamp of approval on this 120-page revision and codification of all immigration and naturalization statutes.

Sentiment in the new Congress has not changed. If anything, the average Republican is stronger for the McCarran-Walter law than the average Democrat.

The second reason is that in this law Congress provided for a joint Senate-House watchdog committee to keep an eye on how it functioned.

The committee has not yet held its organization meeting. But Rep. Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, one of the authors of the law and a member of the committee, says that in its normal routine it would have reviewed the law. President Eisenhower's urging that the Congress revise it is therefore taken as an intrusion of the semisacred congressional rights and privileges.

PARTISANS of liberal-versus-restricted immigration policy call each other names. Catholic Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston declares the act should be amended "to purge it of several un-Christian and un-American provisions."

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, ex-president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, says the law puts "a red-tape curtain around America." Mr. John O'Grady of Washington declares in Rome that the act "will drive many Italians to communism."

Senator McCarran declares that President Truman's Commission on Immigration had used "the Big Lie technique" to issue a "racist and absurd" report. McCarran denies that there is one iota of racial or religious discrimination in the law, though it is tough on Communists.

Philip B. Pearlman, ex-U. S. solicitor general who was chairman of the President's Commission, replies that "the senator cannot make a reasoned defense of an act which embodies so much discrimination and prejudice, so he makes smears against those who disagree with him."

It is now fairly obvious that as long as this bitter enmity exists between supporters and opponents of the McCarran law, no very calm study is going to be made.

ACTUALLY, it may be too early to judge the law fairly. It has been in effect less than two months. While there was a great deal of advance confusion in drafting administrative regulations to carry out the provisions of the act, it went into force smoothly.

There was minor excitement in New York when 251 members of a crew of 974 on the French liner Liberté refused to answer questions and were denied shore leave. Two days later, six ships were cleared without incident.

In Los Angeles there was a rush of Japanese aliens filing citizenship applications made possible for the first time under the new law. In Honolulu it was estimated 60,000 aliens previously denied citizenship were made eligible. In Baltimore, Seattle, New Orleans and other ports, the law was put into effect in routine handling.

The opposition pressure is strongest over the national origins quota system. This would limit U. S. immigrants to 155,000 a year.

The greatest opposition to the quota system is that it shuts out most of the refugees of Europe. The question this raises is whether the United States has an obligation to admit the surplus population of other countries and grant them asylum.

Office Wolves Are Usually Ego-Starved Failures

A WORKING woman discussing the problem of the married "office wolf" asks, "Why is it that the most intelligent, well-bred and successful men so often wear wedding rings and seem proud of their wives, while the man who thinks he is irresistible to other women and is always trying to give the impression that he was roped into marriage, is almost always a man who isn't much of a success and isn't much to look at?"

That's easy to answer. A man who is a success because of his own brains and ability has earned his self-confidence through proving himself. He doesn't have to keep trying to build up his ego by kidding himself that all women find him irresistible or by making his wife look small so that he will feel more important.

FLINTATIONS BUILD MOMENTARY CONFIDENCE

BUT a man who is afraid that he isn't attractive to women and who knows he isn't much of a success, may find that he can get an easy build-up out of flirting, playing the role of the misunderstood husband, or by low-rating his wife to any woman who will listen.

It's a cheap way of making himself feel important but some men can't resist it.

What such men don't realize is that the other women they are forever trying to impress easily see through them.

The women may kid such a man along or for their own interests pretend to "understand" him, but few women are so stupid as to be really fooled by a married "wolf."

There is only one person in the world the married wolf succeeds in fooling for any length of time and that is himself.

His wife knows him for the poor thing he is and so do other women.

Music Lovers Will Hear Pittsburgh Symphony March 2

Pittsburgh, annually host to the musical giants of the world, has long been justifiably proud of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. Now entering its 26th season, the orchestra this year is under the baton of William Steinberg, Toscanini protégé, who has been signed as permanent conductor.

Conductor Steinberg and his 83-piece musical group, shown above, will be presented in Library Theatre March 2nd by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce music committee and will provide local orchestral enthusiasts with the first opportunity in many seasons of hearing such an organization in Warren.

to this country by Toscanini to conduct the NBC Symphony in New York, Steinberg has made a name for himself not only among discriminating musicians, but with the great concert and radio public. In the latter field, he has become established as a warm, subtle, musical interpreter in the Capitol recordings of Beethoven's "Pastoral" and Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," acclaimed universally by music critics. The Pittsburgh Symphony's exclusive recording contract with Capitol was signed shortly after Steinberg was made permanent conductor.

The long and glorious history of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra stems back to the old Pittsburgh Orchestra, founded in 1896 and conducted by Victor Herbert, who composed many of his famed operettas during his six-year period as conductor.

Rebirth of the Pittsburgh Symphony was sparked in 1926, when the musicians of Pittsburgh organized an orchestra to give a free concert to the people of the city.

Serving as conductors from 1928 to 1937 were Elias Breeskin and Antonio Modarelli, the latter filling this capacity for seven years, until the orchestra brought Otto Klemperer from Los Angeles to reorganize and establish the group on a major plane. In the wake of Klemperer came Fritz Reiner, who built up the orchestra to 90 men and the season to 26 weeks during his ten years of service.

The city came to recognize such all-time greats as Stokowski, Rodzinski, Steinberg, De Sabata, Peray and Munch, from 1948 to 1952, years in which a guest-conductor policy was in effect and men like these came to conduct the orchestra.

In addition of the regular concert season, which consists of 20 pairs of concerts, scheduled for Friday evenings and Sunday afternoons at Syria Mosque, the orchestra also gives special concerts and makes an annual tour. High school students and school children are audiences at special concerts arranged especially for the younger generation. These, together with the annual tour, have become established as a definite part of the Symphony Orchestra's program.

This year the tour will bring the orchestra through Warren to play a concert Monday evening, March 2nd, in the Library Theatre. The Jaycee music committee reports there are only 200 tickets left for the event, which may be obtained by mailing the order blank printed on page two of tonight's Times-Mirror. All seats are reserved.

The local law says that no dog may roam at will between 6 a.m. and 9 p.m., and even tiny Claudia Erwin, who is obeying that law with her pup, wants it repealed.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT

WELL HATTED—The halo-like chapeau does double duty for pretty Ann Pease as she strolls along Miami Beach on a warm Winter day. The bonnet keeps her tresses from being blown all about her head, and it can help shade her face from the possible damage of a burning sun.

WHAT IN THE WORLD?—Some children at the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry look perplexed as they view this odd piece. A tubeless tire has been placed at the bottom of the 60-foot-high device for a demonstration of what the modern tire is subjected to. The engineers who built this contraption put a 30-pound free-falling blade into the machine, the better to demonstrate the punishment this piece of rubber can take.

OVER HE GOES!—The Rev. Bob Richards is shown clearing the bar at 15 feet 4 1/4 inches at Madison Square Garden to set the meet record for the pole vault at the New York Athletic Club's track and field meet. Richards tried for 15 feet 9 inches. He failed to make his goal but may have better luck next time.

HEIGHT OF HORROR—The fantastic-looking individual in this photo is Max Palmer, an eight-foot, six-inch, former farm boy from Clarksdale, Miss. After a nationwide search, the 450-pound Palmer was chosen to play the title role in "Killer Ape," a picture being made in Hollywood. Observing the grotesque make-up on Palmer's face is studio hairdresser June Roberts.

ROYALTY ON SKIS—Sweden's Crown Prince Carl Gustaf and his sister, Princess Christina, are out having some fun in the snow near Stockholm. It's the prince's first time on skis, and he's taking to them like a—well, like a skier does to snow.

AN ENDLESS RIDE—Michael Patrick O'Brien, left, the perpetual passenger on the Hong Kong-Macao ferry, is getting dental treatment from Dr. Otto Kuttner, Hong Kong dentist who came aboard the boat to treat O'Brien. A stateside soldier of fortune, O'Brien boarded the ferry last September and was not permitted to land because he had no passport. He's been on the boat, riding back and forth ever since, and can't solve his problem.

SHATTERING BLOW—Flattened by a terrific gale as if they were so many cornstalks, hundreds of trees lie torn to pieces in Carlogie forest, in northeast Scotland. Damage "almost beyond belief" included destruction of 10,000 acres of forest land covered with 5,000,000 cubic feet of timber valued at some $7,000,000.

Increase in Traffic Deaths Listed in '53

Figures relative to highway fatalities, just released by the Bureau of Highway Safety in Harrisburg, and which compare 1952 with 1951, paint a somber picture. According to the bulletin, hopes for a decrease of traffic fatalities in 1952 were dispelled when 174 deaths were chalked up in December.

Officials are of the opinion that no weather and good road conditions during December were responsible for greatly increased traffic and a consequent increase in fatal accidents.

Total deaths for the year of 1952 were 1583, an increase of 23 over 1951. Significantly, the highly populated counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny showed the largest decrease in traffic fatalities, with the rural districts showing the largest increase.

Not included in the state totals are 88 deaths on the Turnpike, an increase of 17 over 1951 when 66 were recorded. In Warren county are listed 13 traffic fatalities, compared with seven in 1951, an increase of almost 50%. All bordering counties in this area, with the exception of Elk county, showed an increase for the year. While Elk county reported no deaths from traffic accidents, the following counties reported these increases: Erie 2; Crawford, 7; Venango, 2; Forest, 1; and McKean, 3.

HOLD-OUT

All the states, except Rhode Island, responded to the call to frame the Constitution of the United States and, on the 25th of May, 1787, the convention began its work in Independence Hall, Philadelphia. Rhode Island finally ratified the Constitution in 1790.

Charter Night Held By Organization Of Technicians

The last meeting of the newly-organized Pennsylvania Psychiatric Technicians' Association at the Warren State Hospital was charter night. Following are the charter members: Harry A. Young, Allen A. Foy, Arden Anderson, Donald R. Siskler, Lewis R. Whitehill, Harold D. Check and Clarence E. Bowers.

Guest speaker for the evening was Nelson Johnson, head of the Social Service Department of the Warren State Hospital. Mr. Johnson gave a very interesting talk upon the changing public attitudes toward mental illness during re-

Gunfighter's Return

by Leslie Ernenwein

Chapter 21
JIM RIMBAUD rolled with punches he couldn't dodge. He gasped for air like a thirsty man gulping water. So much water he gagged on it. Blood ran into Rimbaud's right eye, blinding it, and blood was a warm wetness on his broken lips. He hit Booger Bill in the belly, and heard him grunt, and knew the big man was tired.

So am I, Rimbaud thought. So tired it took all his remaining strength to swing his fist. But he had to keep swinging, had to remain on his feet. If he went down now, with this wild bull of a man above him, he'd get kicked to death. He knuckled blood from his right eye and saw Booger Bill's fist coming at him, and attempted to dodge it. But the fist smashed against the side of his head with an explosion that deafened him.

After that, for a time, Rimbaud was remotely aware of going down and getting up, of striking and being struck, of seeing Booger Bill's blurred, blood-smeared face wabbling queerly before him. There was no expression on Bill's face. It was blank, like a dead man's face. But his eyes weren't dead; they were wild and alive and as the inflamed eyes of a mad bull.

Then, from nowhere at all, another face appeared—Shafter's narrow, grinning face—and he heard him shout, "Now you git it, Rimbaud! Now you really git it!"

Rimbaud remembered an old trick learned in a Sonora mesquite joint. A risky, desperate trick used for survival. He went down sideways, landing on the palm of his free hand and kicking Shafter in the groin as the redhead lunged in. Rimbaud got up, ducked Booger Bill's flailing fists, and knuckled blood from his right eye. He didn't see the fist that slugged him under the left ear. He tried to remain upright, but there was no strength in his legs. The floor tilted up and he heard Hugh Jubal brag, "That's how I chop 'em down—with one punch!"

Even then Rimbaud didn't go all the way down. He propped himself on his hand and was endeavoring to get up when Booger Bill kicked him in the side, again and again. And now, as sharp splinters of pain lanced along Rimbaud's ribs, he heard a gun blast, a deafening explosion echoed by a tinkle of shattered glass.

The kitchen went dark. There was the sound of a horse racing out of the yard, and Hugh Jubal shouting, "Come on, come on! That's Sam Maiben!"

After that, for a time, there was nothing at all.

PAIN roused Jim Rimbaud, a sheath of pain that had its hot core in his left side. He put his hand there and felt no blood. He wondered about the pain, and the throbbing ache along his temples. And the darkness. Where was he?

For a confused interval while clarity came by slow stages, Rimbaud lay rigidly braced against the continuing burden of his pain. Then he remembered being kicked. Booger Bill, he guessed morosely, had cracked his ribs. Or broken them. Recalling the gunshot that had smashed the lamp, and Jubal saying it was Sam Maiben, Rimbaud muttered, "That's what saved me."

But the Roman Four trio would be back. He attempted to untie his left hand, but the knot was pulled too tight. He hunched up on an elbow, cursed at the splinters of pain that movement brought, and waited while a wave of nausea washed through his sweat-drenched body. Then he tried to get his head around and down to the knot that thonged his hand to his left thigh, wanting to use his teeth on it. Again and again, while sickness gagged him, he endeavored to fight his way to the knot. But he couldn't quite make it.

An acrid odor of dust came to him. Listening intently, he heard the rumor of far-off hoofbeats, and thought: They're chasing Maiben. They would try to cut him off from Jigsaw Divide and turn him back this way. He wondered if the Winchester were still over there by the door. Taking a match from his pocket, Rimbaud thumbtapped it aflame and peered across the kitchen.

The Winchester was gone!

Rimbaud swore, knowing instinctively that Stromberg's men would return. Especially Booger Bill. The big man was loco with hate. Red would want another cut at him also in retaliation for that kick. Those two would be back.

Remembering that Jubal had discarded his Buntline pistol in the yard, Rimbaud thought: I've got to get it before they return. With teeth clenched against the grinding pain in his side, he rose to his knees. The dark room seemed to be whirling around him in black, undulating waves. He waited for the dizziness to pass. But it got worse. He started creeping toward the door, and was sick. After that, for what seemed an endless nightmare of slow motion, he crept and rested and crept again, inch by inch, while sweat poured down his cheeks and the taste of it was salty on his lips.

Pain slashed his side with sharp clays. It brought a stark clarity to his mind, and in this moment of comprehension he heard the hoof tramp of a horse coming into the yard. One horse.

Booger Bill Rimbaud thought instantly. Booger Bill coming back to stomp him!

But it might be Sam Maiben. Perhaps Sam had circled and come back to give him a hand. Then it occurred to Rimbaud that Maiben wouldn't do that. He'd know better than to lead those devils back here. So it must be Booger Bill riding into the yard.

Prodded by awful dread now, Rimbaud reached for the doorframe, grasped it, and tugged himself up. He had to get into the yard. Regardless of pain or dizziness he had to reach his gun, or be booted to death. Fighting to balance himself, Rimbaud staggered through the doorway, took one floundering step into the yard, and collapsed.

For a frantic moment, as he fought his way up out of the quilled blackness that engulfed him, Rimbaud thought he heard a voice that was far off, like the fragile echo of an echo. But it was too distant, and he wasn't sure he'd heard it, until Della Stromberg knelt beside him and asked urgently, "Did they shoot you?"

cent years. It was pointed out that slowly but surely the general public is losing its many superstitious fears and beliefs concerning mental illness and is accepting the fact that mental illness is a disease that will respond to adequate and proper treatment.

After the reading of the charter and other business there was a lively discussion by all members concerning how the Association could best serve the interests of the mentally ill and general public by helping to further educate the public to a more realistic attitude toward mental illness. The Psychiatric Technician knows quite well from experience that a mentally ill person is not a person to be feared or ridiculed but is instead a person who needs care, treatment, and understanding to help him upon his road to recovery.

Membership in the new organization will be open to all future classes of Psychiatric Technicians upon satisfactory completion of the two year, 500 hour training course. The second class, comprised of 28 men and women, was begun last September.

The Association has been formed by eighteen members of a recently graduated class of Psychiatric Technicians for the purpose of providing for the "general social, professional, and economic welfare of its members."

Sugar Grove Is Only Team In Pathway of Another Title For Passers of Coach Anderson

Tidioute High's cage team just about clinched the Upper Allegheny Valley league crown last night, when they fought off Youngsville's invasion and emerged with a surprising 47-38 win. Only Sugar Grove remains in the pathway of another championship for Coach Charles Anderson's passers.

In another league tilt last night, East Forest pulled into a two-way tie for third place with Sugar Grove by trouncing West Forest at Tionesta, 42-33.

The defending champs led, 20-17, at half time, fell behind a third period Youngsville blast, 30-28, and then opened fire on Coach Frank Kamus cagers with a 21-point splurge in home stretch.

Six-foot-two Bob Schwab and another six-footer, Art Atkin, led Tidioute's attack with 15 and 13 points respectively. Individual honors, however, went to Youngsville's Dallas Haight. Haight, the only Eagle floorman to hit the double figure mark last night, tallied 18 counters.

Coach Dick Finley's squad finished on top of a best-of-three series with its triumph over the Bowsermen. Gaining a 25-12 advantage at the end of the first half, East Forest slid the rest of the way to a nine-point win.

Sophomore Bud Seifert peppered the basket for 19 points to pace East Forest and he was followed by towering Bob Gettig, who hit for 10. Flick was top pointmaker for West Forest with seven.

This Friday night West Forest travels to second place Youngsville High and Sugar Grove goes to East Forest in a battle for the third step on the ladder.

Through The Wind Tunnel

"My Heart Belongs To You" seems to be the latest theme of our handsome young friend who finds the New York State atmosphere a little on the romantic side.

Suppose that Ray, Jr. is through with New York representatives by now and settled down with his job in Boston.

We wish loads of success to Homer Barr and his WHS wrestlers in Thursday night's match with Grove City, especially little Lou Cummings. A victory against Grove City will mean an undefeated season for Lou in dual competition.

Last season's YMCA boys' camp staff members will have a chance for a little get-together this Friday, when they meet with Harold Moore, State YMCA camping expert.

So far as we know none of the kids have heard from newlyweds Frank and Marge (Rutchie) Carr since they headed West.

Some of the '4ers of good old WHS are already starting to talk reunion. They have a challenge to meet, and so far they have done right well.

Emmie Abram, our new boys' work secretary at the "Y", seems to be a swell chap and is coming along fine in his new position. He has also enjoyed taking in some of Warren High's wrestling matches and cage tilts.

We haven't had a chance to talk with Miss Bettie since she returned from her weekend trip, but they tell us she is walking around with her head in the clouds.

Reading about showers being held for Misses "BJ" and Lois reminds us of another romance that seems to be blossoming between a fair-haired young Warren man and Miss Donna.

AN OPEN LETTER To Mr. and Mrs. Motorist:

We've waited a long time for the opportunity to write this letter. Ever since we announced our KEYSTONE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY GASOLINE last year, reports have been coming back to us through our dealers, salesmen, district managers, as well as our many friends in Warren and throughout our marketing territory.

We wanted to wait until you had the chance to use this fine new motor fuel under all driving conditions and in all types of weather in order to be sure that you, Mr. and Mrs. Motorist, had fully confirmed the results of tests made in our laboratory on KEYSTONE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY GASOLINE.

We are now proud to say that your response was overwhelming—a landslide vote of confidence in favor of longer mileage, more power, easier starting, and smoother operation. At first we thought that in the face of all the extravagant claims that are being made about gasoline these days, you might overlook what was said about our product. So we sold it on a money-back-guarantee, the first time this had ever been done. The result—10,000 to 0 in favor of KEYSTONE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY GASOLINE, plus many unsolicited expressions of motoring satisfaction. For this overwhelming response we wish to express our sincere appreciation.

But we are not content to rest on our laurels. This year we are going to spend $1,500,000 to build the best and most up-to-date refining equipment in the country. Why? There are two reasons. First, we must be able to keep up with the ever increasing demand for KEYSTONE GASOLINE. Second, reports from Detroit and Oil Industry circles indicate that even more powerful cars are on the way which will require even more powerful motor fuels. We are on top in the "octane race" and we intend to stay there. KEYSTONE GASOLINE is the best money can buy, and we promise to keep it that way.

So here's an invitation to you to keep track of the progress we're making over the next few months. Construction work can be readily observed whenever you enter Warren across the Glade Bridge.

Then be ready for the motoring surprise of your life this summer.

Yours sincerely,

EVEN THE MUFFLER DOES THINGS TO THE POWER

World's Newest V8

BACK in the old days, any man who wanted real performance used a "cut-out" on his car. It was a device that by-passed the muffler—because mufflers have always cut down on usable power. But it made a lot of noise. Muffling that noise—and still getting rid of exhaust gases as fast as they come from the cylinders—has stumped the automobile people for years.

Now, Buick engineers have racked up another "first." They have come up with a muffler of supreme quiet and zero power loss—first time in history. It is called a dynamic flow muffler. And it is one of many advances that make the great 1953 Buick ROADMASTER even greater.

For this automobile—the greatest Buick in fifty great years—has a brilliant new V8 Engine that can turn up 188 hp. And every one of its horsepower can be delivered as usable power—since none is restricted in muffler passage.

As you would expect, there is more to this magnificent motorcar than power, great though it is.

There's a still finer ride, better maneuverability, easier handling—now with Power Steering as standard equipment, and Power Brakes optional at extra cost.

Oklahoma 'Sooners' Loom as National Contenders on Mat

State College, Feb. 18 — Port Robertson's Oklahoma Sooners, twice national champions and currently unbeaten in 21 consecutive matches, once again loom as the team to beat when the nation's foremost collegians compete in the National wrestling championships here, March 27-28. The 1952 champs are certain entries.

The Sooners, who won Big Seven honors four of the last five years, boast one champion, one runner-up and a third-place winner from last year's title team. Only uncertain starter of the three is 147-pound Tommy Evans, last year's NCAA champion and runner-up in the Olympics, who is nursing an injured knee since season's start.

Evans, a senior who was voted the outstanding wrestler in 1952 tournament, will defend his knee permits, and Sooner chances will be enhanced by the return, to NCAA mats of Don Reese, last year's runner-up at 130 pounds, and his younger brother, Harold, who finished third in the 137-pound class. Other Sooner standouts are Bryan Rayburn, 147-157 pounds, and Frank Marks, 167 pounds.

The Sooners, who a month ago walloped Oklahoma A. & M. in dual competition for the fifth straight time, once again anticipate a rough time against their intrastate rivals, A. &amp. M. until two years ago dominated the national tournament, winning 15 titles outright and sharing another with Iowa State. The 1953 tournament will be the 23rd since the tourney was founded in 1928.

Disputed Decision Is Greatest 'Rhubarb'

New York (AP)—The Joey Giardello-Billy Graham disputed decision goes into the record books as the greatest result "rhubarb" since the Dartmouth-Cornell "Fifth down" game of 1940 and the Don Gehrman-Fred Wilt mile of 1950.

Giardello finally discovered yesterday, almost two months after Dec. 19 Madison Square Garden fight with Graham, that he really won it. He won it once for about three minutes, held an "unofficial" decision for about 20 minutes and then "lost" when Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, reversed Judge Joe Agnello's scorecard.

Supreme Court Justice Bernard Botkin gave it back to Giardello when he annulled the commission's action in an 11-page decision. Christenberry had no comment, but it was not believed that he planned any appeal.

DYKES FAVORED OVER MICELI THIS EVENING

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Lanky Bobby Dykes was expected to be a 3-1 favorite tonight when he makes his debut as a middleweight, against stocky Joe Miceli in a 10-round fight at the Coral Gables Coliseum.

Dykes, originally from San Antonio, Tex., now fights out of Miami and will be making his 45th appearance in a local ring. He is seeking his second victory over Miceli, a 24-year-old soldier whom Dykes defeated in 10 rounds last year in New York City.

Dykes will weigh about 154 for his first fight as a middleweight while Miceli is expected to scale 150.

The fight will be televised nationally over CBS at 10 p. m. EST.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★ Experts See Clue in Patterson Of Brighter Days for Boxing

NEW YORK (NEA)—Floyd Patterson is a strong and lively tract of meat out of Brooklyn with a wicked punch and slews of savvy who gives promise of brighter days ahead in the fistfight game.

He's still in the cocoon yet, but the experts say the 165-pound Olympic Games champion can't miss achieving wealth and glory among the professionals.

Nineteen years old, sinister-looking and the winner of his first five pro fights since returning from Helsinki last August, Patterson has faster paws than a subway pickpocket. And they cause more suffering. He confuses opponents with an impetuous style, lunging forward to throw the first blow, sometimes missing with that opening punch. He doesn't mind if he does miss, because he seemingly has six or seven other hands with which to follow up.

When a young Negro comes along today, the first thing appraisers do is compare him with Sugar Ray Robinson. Patterson is no exception.

"I think he could take Ray Robinson right now," said Eddie Egan, New York's boxing commissioner emeritus, after the youngster finished dismantling a moon-faced Dutchman named Leonardus Jansen in the Olympic Games quarter-finals.

DESPITE the build-up, Manager Gus D'Amato doesn't think his pet dragon has hit his stride as a professional yet. "He's still pressing," says D'Amato. "He's not relaxed in there. Yet it must be remembered he's been boxing only three and a half years."

Patterson's handlers have been spoon-feeding red, raw meat into him to heat him up for battle. They think their tiger is too tame. "He's too nice to his opponents," said D'Amato.

You'd have a hard time convincing Jansen, the Dutchman, that there's anything "nice" about the Brooklyn Bomber. In that one, Patterson, at the bell moved around his man, hooking in fairly leisurely style. The Dutchman made him tester a trifle with a pretty good hook. The American seemed stunned rather than hurt.

Patterson crowded his man, working with both hands. Suddenly he chucked Jansen with a short left hook under the chin. Jansen's handlers scraped him up and took him home in a blanket.

BIG SHOTS Cleveland Barons Find Providence Reds Easy

By The Associated Press
The Cleveland Barons in first place in the American Hockey League today are wishing that five more clubs in the circuit were named Providence.

When the Barons want a victory this season, all that seems necessary is to trot the Providence club on to the ice and presto—two more points for Cleveland. It's happened eight times in a row.

In the league's only game last night it was no different. Playing at home the Barons grabbed a 3-1 lead in the first period and went on to whip the Reds, 6-3. The triumph put Cleveland two points ahead of Pittsburgh in the red-hot first place battle.

Increase Shown In Murphy Co. Sales For the Past Year

W. C. Shaw, chairman of the board of directors, and P. L. Sample, president, has announced 1952 earnings of the G. C. Murphy Company were $7,267,853.

Sales for 1952 were $184,065,448, showing an increase of $15,167,780 or 8% over 1951. Average sales per store were $623,950 for the 296 stores in operation at year end.

Earnings after federal taxes of $8,062,000 totaled $7,267,853 compared with earnings after federal taxes, and before non-recurring income of $7,779,129 for 1951. A refund of $1,382,122 of excess profits taxes for prior years brought 1951 net earnings to $9,161,251. Per share earnings were $3.21 on the 2,129,500 shares outstanding.

Dividend payments equaled $2.00 per share on the Common Stock, compared with $2.37 1/2, including a special payment of 50c a share out of excess profits tax recovery, in 1951.

Inventories increased $2,059,264 to $25,559,908, reflecting the added lines of merchandise in the Morris stores, and the demands of enlarged units.

Working capital increased for the third consecutive year to a total of $34,085,522. The current ratio was 2.90 to 1 compared with 3.62 to 1 in 1951.

Sixteen stores were enlarged, thirty-two modernized, two moved to new and larger locations, and one store was added in 1952. Thirty six of the 71 Morris stores were re-worked to conform to Murphy operations. Locations in six new shopping centers and in one other community have already been leased for 1953.

Shrove Tuesday Motif At Teachers' Lunch

In observance of Shrove Tuesday, Josef Wolf, German teacher at Warren High School, decorated the teachers' dining room at the high school yesterday in much the same style as German homes and schools are decorated at this time, and a carnival atmosphere prevailed.

With decorations which Mrs. Wolf had made and sent over to him from Germany, he covered the dining tables with red crepe paper and serpentine. Here and there he had placed figures in carnival costumes, made of crepe paper, tin foil, and angel hair. Masks and caricatures of colored foil paper hung from the walls.

The German celebration of Shrove Tuesday is much like that of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. The German schools have parties, and costumed merry-makers parade through the streets. On Ash Wednesday, all festivities cease, and the people put on a solemn attitude for the Lenten season.

Faulty Brakes Are Blamed for Wreck

Washington (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today an incorrectly placed brake valve caused the spectacular wreck of a runaway express train in Washington's Union Station.

The wreck here, on Jan. 18, came when the Federal Express train from Boston, operated jointly by the New Haven and Pennsylvania Railroads, failed to stop as it came into the station.

It ran off the dead end rails, and crashed into the concrete of the huge station, only three blocks from the nation's capitol.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

WIDESPREAD PREFERENCE for one-story houses is reflected in the latest surveys of the government's Housing and Home Finance Agency. But the added cost of foundations and roof areas have tended to keep one-story houses small. Therefore, the story-and-a-half house with an expansion attic for extra bedrooms, becomes expedient. This plan 1284 by William G. Chrigotis, architect, 968 Stayvessant Ave., Union, N. J., fills the need for an expandable house. It covers 1,050 square feet, without garage and porch, and with basement it contains 22,150 cubic feet—figures which are handy for estimates.

Pleasing Program At Home St. School
Parents of children in the kindergarten, first, second and third grades of Home Street school, invited to enjoy an on-the-spot program with the pupils, were entertained with pageants and songs, commemorating Lincoln and Washington birthdays and Valentine Day.
"We made our own Valentine boxes and have been having lots of fun making fancy Valentines for our friends. You should see our lack-in-the-Beanstalk, which is real and grows inches every day. Don't you wish you could do all this?" said a spokesman for the kindergarten class.

This group, under the supervision of Mrs. Anabel Duff, having painted the scenic background, gave the play, "The Three Bears," assisted by their own orchestra in capes and hats they had made to match.
"Peter Rabbit," a musical play in three scenes, was given by Mrs. Helen Launstein's first graders. The children also did choral speaking and sang songs.
The second graders, taught by Mrs. Nell Swick, sang a patriotic song and recited two poems about Lincoln and Washington.

Explorer Post No. 5 Stages Enjoyable Charter Night Event

It was a real family party in the famous Wehner basement in Quaker road, Monday night, when the parents and families of members of Troop 5 and Explorer Post 5 gathered for the annual Charter Night celebration and sat down to a sumptuous tureen dinner which Troop Chairman Melvin Smith said had become "Traditional" when he welcomed all present.

Don Lauffer, Post advisor, introduced Commissioner Bill Wehner who in turn presented Jack MacDonald, Exalted Ruler of the Elks' Lodge, which sponsors the troop and post. The thanks extended to the Elks and the welcome to the parents, Scouts and delegates from the Elks' lodge brought an expression of pride from Mr. MacDonald, who spoke for the Elks in saying that their work with the Scouts is of the utmost importance to the Lodge. The troop charter was presented by Mr. MacDonald to Chairman Smith who, in turn, gave it to Gusto Arrigo, assistant scoutmaster, in the absence of Scoutmaster Ted Reed, who could not be present. The Post 5 charter, presented to Commissioner Wehner, was given to Advisor Lauffer and the Post committee introduced: Albert M. McDannel, Guy Swanson, Everett Grosch and Al Koebley.

Commissioner Wehner praised Scout Executive Rut Sanford and introduced Mr. Sanford, who expressed his pleasure in working with "you, Mr. MacDonald, and your fellow Elks."

Several of the troop committee were absent, but the committee was named as John W. Benze, Albert Moore, Kenneth Drum, Ted Reed, Gusto Arrigo. Kenneth Drum was introduced and praised for the assistance he has rendered. Mr. Wehner had a particular word of thanks for Merritt Rohlin, institutional representative, for all he has done.

In praising the work done by Troop 5 and Post 5, Mr. MacDonald also lauded the cooks of "Hooktown," and said the community which has won that affectionate title is also famous "for its school, its homes, its Boy Scouts and its good TV reception."

Mr. Lauffer presented Eagle Scout Bob Barhite with the coveted award of the Bronze Palm, which indicates that Bob has won five more merit badges than necessary to become an Eagle. Ten more will win him the Silver Palm and fifteen more the Gold Palm.
"Tom Barlow received merit badges for firemaking, citizenship in community and nation and safe driving; Clark Grosch for firemanship, citizenship in the community, nation and home, while it was announced that Bob Bloom has qualified for the God and Country award, an unusual accomplishment.

Edmond W. Koebley, who was present, received a fine ovation when it was announced that he will have charge of Camp Olmsted during the coming summer camping season.

In talking about the National Jamboree in California this summer, Commissioner Wehner announced that Dr. John Thompson of Youngsville, one of the greatest boosters of Scouting in the county, will accompany the Warren county troop to the Jamboree and be in constant attendance upon the boys during their trip to and from California and during the Jamboree.

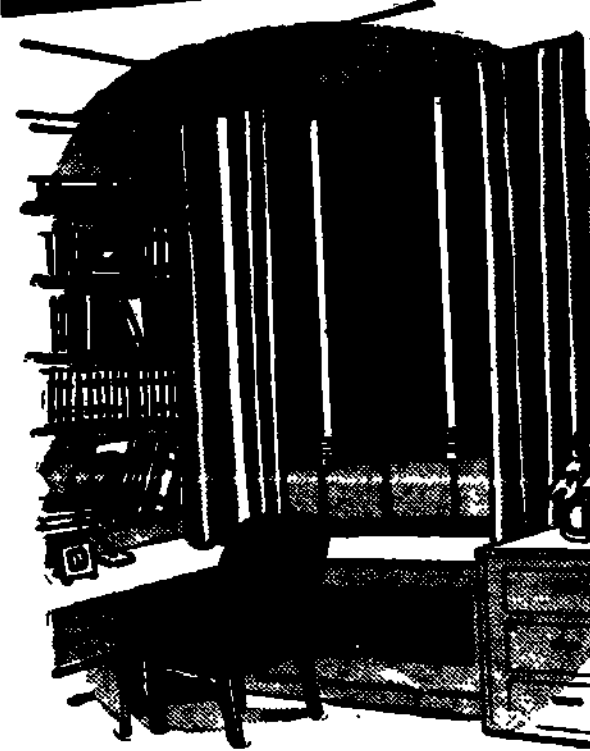

At the close of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wehner were thanked for their continued hospitality and while most of the guests trekked home through the heavy snow, others remained 'round the big fireplace to talk over Scout and community activities.

Recent surgical advances, coupled with great strides in prevention, care and treatment are only the beginning of the fight against heart disease. Your support of the Heart Fund aids the fight against heart disease.

and Mrs. Clark Wiltzie at Fentonville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larson and Ida Grace Larson were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWilliams at Warren.
